

COLLEGE DEPARTMENT.

Send Subscriptions and Donations, for the University, to
ELDER JOSIAH KEIM,
LOUISVILLE,
Stark County, OHIO.

From C. A. Coler.

The College, of course, has been bought of the receiver, and money advanced on the first payment to bind the contract, but suppose the money is not raised to pay the first payment what then? One of two things will happen. The money advanced will be forfeited and we lose the College, or the trustees will be obliged to borrow money for the first payment. The latter under no circumstance should be done. It is not the business of trustees to borrow money and contract debts on property entrusted to their care, but to judiciously manage the property to promote the object of the trust. The incorporators have worked very hard, employed good council and have the College business in good shape. No question now about the title.

This is a golden opportunity brethren to get splendid College buildings and beautiful campus cheap. You will never have another such opportunity. Don't fail to promptly send your money to the purchasing committee. Your money will be honestly accounted for. After the first payment is made the remaining two payments will be much easier made.

C. A. COLER.

Dear Editor.—I send the enclosed for publication, hoping that it may influence others to "go and do likewise."

Burr F. Augustine, Clara Augustine, Della Ingbright, Rose Fields, Lizzie Nihart, H. M. Hardman, W. R. Lennon, Clara Dunn, Eva Dunn, R. A. Myler.

Daniel Myers, of Lanark, Pa., favors the College with a $1.00
A friend in Kansas sends one dollar for the College.

Bro. L. W. Ditch sends in eleven names for the Young Folks Roll of Honor.

Bro. S. G. Longaker renews his subscription and encloses $3.50 for the College.

Bro. J. P. Wolfe, of Lathrop, Cal., sends two dollars, donations by sister Reynolds and Garrison.

Is The World Getting Honest?

It must be; just see this! A well-known reliable firm in Buffalo, N. Y., offers to sell a Great Bargain Box of laundry soap, together with nearly 100 articles both useful and ornamental to any address on 30 days trial. They prepay the freight too. Now such an offer proves the honesty and good will of the firm, for, as surely as "it takes a rogue to catch a rogue," it takes an honest man to trust others. Send your address on a postal card (mentioning this paper) to J. d. Larkin & Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and get a genuine surprise in a rare good bargain.

MARRIED.—At Carleton, Neb., Aug. 16, 1888, by Rev. S. H. Bashor, Rev. George W. DeBolt, pastor of the Carleton church, to Sister Nellie Clemons. The ceremony took place in the church before a large audience. The church was handsomely decorated with flowers by the young people of Bro. DeBolt's charge. A reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, immediately after the arrival of the bridal party from the church. About 75 were present at the reception, where an elegant collation was served. The presents were numerous and handsome. Bro. DeBolt's wife is worthy the position by his side in his life work.

The Herald, of Roanoke, Va., thus speaks of Bro. Jerrold: "Rev. Dr. E. M. Jerrold, of Philadelphia, Pa., will deliver a temperance lecture free of charge, in the M. E. Church South, next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. Ladies and gentlemen are invited to attend. New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania papers speak in very high terms of Mr. Jerrold's labors in their states: The Jefferson County Journal, of Adams, New York, says: 'He has done a good work and endeared himself to the hearts of our people, both of his church and the community generally in whose memories he will ever hold a welcome place.' The Wayne Independent, of Honesdale, Pa., says: 'The Elder certainly is a pulpit orator and a very able minister of the gospel. His logical, sympathetic and analytic manner of presenting the truth enables him to find his way to the hearts of his hearers. He is a large-hearted Christian gentleman.'"

Sunday School Convention of Pennsylvania.

The tenth annual Sunday School Convention of the Brethren church, of Pennsylvania will be held in Johnstown, Sept. 25th and 26th, 1888 opening at 2 p. m., Tuesday, and closing with evening session of Wednesday.

The following is a list of the subjects to be discussed and the names of those to whom they have been assigned:

The Model Sunday school, its aims, its results, E. E. Roberts, J. W. Smouse.
Variety interests the youthful mind, A. L. Garber, Jno. G. Snyder.
Our Sunday school Literature, Tracts, &c., J. Duke McFadden, Wm. Gans.
"Proverbs, 22: 6," Dr. E. M. Jerrold.
The Sunday school, its place and mission in the world, A. D. Gnagay, S. L. Buck.
What may we expect from efficient S. school work? J. H. Knepper, J. B. Wampler.
"S. S. C. E.," M. M. Sterling.
Our experience in Sunday school work, W. L. Spanogle.
Essays by Anna Younkin, Barbara Snoberger, and Tillie Moser.
As a program must necessarily contain but a limited number of the names of our many earnest S. S. workers, we hereby extend a most cordial and pressing invitation to all of our brethren and sisters to be present with us and lend a helping hand in making the convention a success.

Michigan Convention.

The Michigan Conference will be held on Friday the 28th of September, 1888, and also there will be held in connection with the Ministerial Convention and S. S. Convention.

Now come all who have a willing mind, but be sure and leave self at home, but bring Christ with you, and let us work together for the building up of the cause of Christ and the salvation of souls.

WALTER CLARK.

Dowagiac, Mich.

To A. H. Cassel.

Dear Brother.—When I said I had mountains of history to prove that every good thing had its origin at the North Pole, I didn't mean mountains of books, but mountains of books compiled into one, called Paradise Found. It has been so long since I last saw the book, that I have forgotten the name of the author. I loaned the book to Bro. John Worst, of Williams Port, Dakota. I fail to see how you know that the country up there is a boundless region of eternal ice, if (as you say) no human being ever traversed it. You must remember that at the North Pole, the sun shines about eleven months in a year and revolves horizontally; and while the sun don't shine the (what we call the northern lights) are so brilliant that that part of the season is the most delightful. According to history, Noah and his family thought that they had got to a new world when they landed at Mt. Ararat, because of the short days and nights, or in other words so many days and nights.

I often times wondered when I was yet a child, what had become of that happy place that our first parents were driven out of. But by and by I heard some one say that the indications are that there is a warm country somewhere north of that cold region you speak about. Right here let me tell you that animals are found frozen in up there that don't rove in cold climates. That proves to a demonstration that animals had there origin at the North Pole, and have been driven southward by the cold waves increasing. The same can also be said of the vegetable kingdom. The earth first materialized at the North Pole. Consequently the garden was planted there and man was formed there and everything else. Look at the map of the world, and see how the earth centers to the North Pole.

I will get my book home, then I will tell you all about the river of life and the tree of life, and where you can get the book if you would prefer.
